

Privacy Notice

John Rowe Insurance values your Privacy. We collect Personal Identifiable Information (PII) for the sole purpose of quoting, issuing, renewing, servicing, or soliciting Insurance. However, any PII created or collected for use in quoting, issuing, or maintaining a Policy in the Federal Facilitated Exchange (FFE) will only be used for FFE functions. Should you want Insurance outside of the FFE, your PII must be collected separately. You have the right to know what PII we create, collect, maintain, store, or disclose. You have the right to revoke the use of PII created, collected, or stored for use in the FFE or its functions. The failure to disclose requested PII may result in the declination to quote, issue, or renew a Policy. If you believe any PII we have is not accurate, timely, complete, relevant or necessary to accomplish an FFE function, you have the right to Amend, Correct, Substitute, or Delete by supplying supporting documentation in writing to us. You may have other rights under applicable State and Federal Law pertaining to the use of PII. Our Website contains Links to 3rd Party Websites of which we have no control. It is suggested that you review their Privacy and Security Statements prior to disclosing any PII. Our Privacy Notice is subject to change.
